Session Report: Language and Communication Skills

(Business Language Comprehension)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully conducted the Language and Communication Skills (Business Language Comprehension) programme from 18th September 2024 to 13th November 2024. The programme was designed to strengthen students' proficiency in business language and enhance their overall communication effectiveness in academic and professional contexts. The programme focused on developing comprehensive language skills essential for understanding and using business-oriented communication.

Emphasis was placed on business vocabulary, comprehension of professional texts, formal writing skills, oral communication, and interpretation of corporate and managerial communication. Students were trained to comprehend business documents, reports, emails, and presentations with clarity and precision. The programme significantly enhanced students' confidence in business communication and their ability to comprehend complex managerial and organizational information. Participants demonstrated noticeable improvement in professional articulation, workplace communication readiness, and overall linguistic competence. Overall, the Language and Communication Skills (Business Language Comprehension) programme was successfully implemented and achieved its intended objectives.

Session Report: Language and Communication Skills (Business Communication Laboratory)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully conducted the Language and Communication Skills – Business Communication Laboratory as part of its academic and capacity building initiatives. The laboratory-based programme witnessed active participation from students and was designed to provide practical exposure to professional communication in business and managerial contexts. The primary objective of the Business Communication Laboratory was to strengthen students' applied communication skills through experiential learning. The sessions focused on developing spoken and written communication competencies essential for workplace effectiveness.

Emphasis was placed on business correspondence, professional conversations, presentations, group discussions, and interview communication, enabling students to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application. The programme adopted a hands-on, learner-centric approach, encouraging students to actively engage in role plays, mock presentations, situational dialogues, and group activities. Special attention was given to enhancing interpersonal communication, listening skills, and non-verbal cues required in corporate settings. Overall, the Language and Communication Skills (Business Communication Laboratory) sessions were highly effective in achieving their objectives.

Session Report: Life Skills Programme – Workshop on Health and Wellness
(Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully organized a Life Skills Workshop on Health and Wellness on 26th May 2025 as part of its ongoing capacity building initiatives. The workshop witnessed active participation from students and reflected the institution's emphasis on promoting holistic well-being alongside academic and professional development. Key focus areas of the workshop included balanced nutrition, regular physical activity, stress management, mental resilience, and preventive healthcare. Students were encouraged to understand the impact of daily habits on long-term health outcomes and academic efficiency. The session emphasized practical strategies for managing stress, maintaining work-life balance, and building emotional stability in high-pressure environments.

An interactive and awareness-driven approach was adopted during the workshop, enabling students to reflect on their lifestyle choices and well-being practices. Discussions and practical insights helped participants recognize early signs of stress and burnout and adopt preventive measures to safeguard their physical and mental health. Students actively engaged in the session and expressed appreciation for the relevance of the topics discussed. Overall, the Life Skills Workshop on Health and Wellness was highly effective in achieving its objectives. It significantly enhanced students' awareness of holistic health practices and motivated them to prioritize well-being as an integral part of their academic and professional journey. The programme reinforced ASTHA School of Management's commitment to nurturing healthy, balanced, and resilient individuals through meaningful life skills and capacity building initiatives.

Session Report: Soft Skills Programme on Public Speaking
(Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully conducted a Soft Skills Programme on Public Speaking on 28th February 2025 as part of its capacity building and skills enhancement initiatives. The programme received active participation from students across various programmes, demonstrating keen interest in strengthening communication and presentation competencies. The session was structured to address the importance of public speaking as a core professional and academic skill. It focused on developing confidence, clarity of thought, effective verbal expression, and audience engagement. Students were sensitized to the role of body language, voice modulation, articulation, and structured content delivery in impactful public speaking. Emphasis was also laid on overcoming stage fear, managing anxiety, and handling questions with confidence. An interactive and learner-centric approach was adopted throughout the programme. Students were encouraged to participate in short speaking activities, self-reflection exercises, and discussions that helped them recognize their strengths and areas for improvement.

The session generated enthusiastic responses from participants, many of whom expressed increased confidence and motivation to practice public speaking in academic presentations, group discussions, and professional interactions. The experiential nature of the programme enabled students to relate theoretical concepts to real-life communication challenges. Overall, the Soft Skills Programme on Public Speaking was highly successful in achieving its intended objectives. The programme reinforced ASTHA School of Management's commitment to holistic student development through focused capacity building initiatives aimed at nurturing well-rounded future professionals.

The programme witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across programmes, reflecting a strong interest in developing essential life and professional skills. The session was designed to sensitize students to the critical importance of time as a strategic resource in both academic and professional contexts. Through structured discussions and practical illustrations, the programme emphasized effective planning, goal setting, prioritization of tasks, and optimal utilization of available time. Students were introduced to techniques for identifying time wasters, managing deadlines, balancing academic and personal commitments, and improving productivity under pressure.

The training adopted an interactive approach, encouraging active student engagement through real-life examples, reflective exercises, and experience sharing. Participants were guided to assess their own time management practices and identify areas for improvement. The session also highlighted the role of discipline, consistency, and self-motivation in achieving long-term personal and professional goals. Students responded very positively to the programme and actively participated throughout the session. Overall, the Soft Skills Training Programme on Time Management was highly successful in achieving its objectives. It contributed significantly to enhancing students' awareness, confidence, and preparedness for academic excellence and future workplace challenges.

Session Report: Soft Skills Programme on Leadership and Team Building (Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully organized a Soft Skills Training Programme on Leadership and Team Building on 16th April 2025 as part of its continuous capacity building and skills enhancement initiatives. The programme witnessed active and enthusiastic participation from students across programmes, reflecting a strong commitment toward developing essential managerial competencies. The session was designed to enhance students' understanding of leadership as a process of influence, responsibility, and collaboration rather than authority alone. Emphasis was placed on self-leadership, emotional intelligence, ethical decision-making, and adaptability in dynamic organizational environments. Students were encouraged to recognize their leadership potential and understand the importance of aligning individual goals with team objectives.

The programme adopted a participative and learner-centric approach, encouraging students to engage actively, share experiences, and reflect on real-life situations related to teamwork and leadership challenges. Students expressed that the session helped them gain clarity on managing group dynamics, improving interpersonal relationships, and leading teams with confidence and empathy. Overall, the Soft Skills Programme on Leadership and Team Building was highly impactful and successful in achieving its objectives. It significantly contributed to students' personal growth, managerial readiness, and professional orientation. The programme reaffirmed ASTHA School of Management's commitment to holistic student development by nurturing leadership capabilities and teamwork skills essential for future managers and responsible professionals.

Session Report: Life Skills Programme – Observation of International Yoga Day
(Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully observed International Yoga Day on 21st June 2024 as part of its life skills and capacity building initiatives. The programme witnessed active participation from students and reflected the institution's commitment to promoting holistic development, well-being, and a balanced academic and professional life. Students were sensitized to the role of yoga as an effective tool for stress management, self-regulation, and improving concentration in today's fast-paced and demanding academic environment. The programme highlighted yoga not merely as a physical exercise but as a comprehensive practice that integrates body, mind, and inner balance.

The session focused on the relevance of yoga in enhancing flexibility, posture, breathing control, mindfulness, and emotional stability. Emphasis was also laid on adopting healthy lifestyle habits to ensure long-term physical and mental wellness. The programme followed a participative and awareness-oriented approach, enabling students to reflect on their daily routines, stress levels, and lifestyle choices. Students showed keen interest and enthusiasm, acknowledging the significance of incorporating yoga and mindfulness practices into their everyday lives. Overall, the observation of International Yoga Day was meaningful and impactful. It successfully achieved its objectives of promoting holistic health, mental clarity, and life balance among students.

Session Report: Soft Skills Training Programme on Gender Sensitization (Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully organized a Soft Skills Training Programme on Gender Sensitization on 27th May 2025 as part of its capacity building and skills enhancement initiatives. The programme witnessed active participation from students across programmes, reflecting a growing awareness of the importance of gender equality and inclusivity in academic, social, and professional contexts. The session was designed to promote sensitivity, respect, and ethical conduct by enhancing students' understanding of gender roles and dynamics. It emphasized the need to recognize and challenge stereotypes, unconscious biases, and discriminatory practices that can affect interpersonal relationships and organizational culture. Students were encouraged to reflect on social conditioning and develop a more inclusive and empathetic outlook.

Key areas of focus included gender equality, inclusivity, mutual respect, and responsible behaviour in academic and workplace environments. Discussions emphasized the role of awareness, communication, and ethical responsibility in preventing gender-based discrimination and fostering equitable participation. Students demonstrated keen interest and maturity in engaging with the subject matter. Overall, the Soft Skills Training Programme on Gender Sensitization was impactful and effective in achieving its objectives. It significantly contributed to developing socially aware, empathetic, and responsible individuals equipped to navigate diverse academic and professional environments.

Session Report: Application of IT in Management Education
(Capacity Building Initiative)

ASTHA School of Management, Bhubaneswar successfully organized a Programme on the Application of IT in Management Education on 09th July 2025 as part of its capacity building and skills enhancement initiatives. The programme witnessed active participation from students across programmes, highlighting their growing interest in acquiring digital competencies essential for contemporary management education and professional practice. The session was designed to familiarize students with the practical relevance of information technology in managerial learning and decision-making processes. Emphasis was placed on understanding how digital tools and applications support efficient data handling, analysis, communication, and knowledge management in academic as well as organizational contexts. Students were sensitized to the evolving role of technology in shaping modern management practices. Students were encouraged to view IT not merely as a technical skill but as a strategic resource for enhancing managerial effectiveness.

The programme adopted an interactive and application-oriented approach, enabling students to relate theoretical concepts to real-life managerial scenarios. Overall, it was highly successful in achieving its objectives. It significantly enhanced students' awareness of technology-driven management practices and improved their readiness to function effectively in digitally enabled workplaces.
